Who are you?

- A global-minded college graduate with an entrepreneurial spirit
- An experienced writer with a passion for business

Come with your skills and enthusiasm. We welcome everyone with a passion for writing and a desire to build a career in the business advisory world. Join our great team of writers, business consultants and start-up advisors!

In this job, you will use our process and tools to:

1. Research and analyze a wide range of industries, businesses and business models as you help our clients with business plans for their new or expanding businesses
2. Create full business plans and financial statements for start-up companies or businesses moving into an expansion phase

Apply only if you meet these minimum requirements:

1. Impeccable international-level written business English
2. 4-year University degree, with a preference for those with solid coursework in economics, finance, accounting, marketing or business management

OR

Equivalent direct entrepreneurial or corporate business experience, which has provided you with

- ability to understand and create basic financial statements (ex.: P&L, income statements, balance sheets)
- ability to quickly understand and analyze a business activity through provided documents and additional research

Additional Skills:

We appreciate your high-level proficiency in:

- Microsoft Word – especially as used to prepare reports and presentations
- Microsoft Excel – especially with its formulas and business functionalities
- Internet-based research and similar research tools
- Fast keyboard typing

If you believe you have these skills and knowledge, apply for our BUSINESS PLAN RESEARCHER AND WRITER position.

Apply with your CV and a brief cover letter stating why you are interested in this type of position, and why you are the right person for the job. Both the CV and a brief cover letter have to be prepared in English language in order for the application to be considered!
